CITY ASSESSMENT IS NOW COMPLETE

It Will Run Up to Over Ten Million.

Railroad Assessments Are Left to State Board and Can Only Be Estimated at Present.

TAX RATE TO BE ABOUT $1.00

The board of city supervisors has practically finished its work, and its totals are as follows:

White personality, $2,978,804;
colored personality, $13,125; white
realty, $6,768,617; colored realty, $201,980; grand total, $9,962,526.
This includes everything except the assessments for the franchise and tangible property of the railroads.
The state board of equalization fixes these assessments and the figures are always adopted by the municipal authorities. Last year when the supervisors finished they anticipated the railroad assessments to be $382,480,
which used as a basis this year would make the total assessments $10,346, 006.

These figures show that the supervisors raised the properties this year nearly $600,000, as the totals for last year were: White realty, $6,
527,277; white personality, $2,166,
780; colored realty, $203,100; colored personality, $9,993, making a total of $8,907,150. That included everything last year except the railroads, and the assessments of the local banks, which were then estimated by the supervisors as follows:
Railroads, $382,480, and banks
$498,130.

The assessments were not that large, however, but the total assessment last year approximated $9,788, 760, so the increase this year is about $560,000.

The street car company's properties were assessed at $250,000 and the East Tennessee Telephone company's at $100,000, an increase of $60,000. The Independent Telephone company was assessed at $22, 000, an increase of $18,000.

The supervisors turned the books
over to Auditor Alex Kirkland this afternoon and the report will be made to the council boards next week.

The friends of the mayor are now claiming that with the addition of nearly $600,000 to the assessment that the tax rate can be placed at about $1.55, and of course the mayor would like to see it there. A $1.55 tax rate would raise $151,429.15.
The revenue from other sources are estimated at about $60,000, so the anticipated revenues for the year are $211,429.15. The schools will get $36,211 of this, leaving $168,208
for the city's part.

The city's expenditures last year were about $178,000, but the new boards cut this a good deal this year.

"We shall try to make the rate as low as is consistent with good business judgment," said a member of the aldermanic board today. "It is all right for the friends of the mayor to say, 'Here, now, you can make the rate $1.55. We told you so before, or the mayor did in his message,' but we have a good many old broken down things left on our hands from the old boards that we shall have to take care of this year, and they will take a good deal of money. We want to do something toward getting sites for parks, and if possible build a new bridge at Island Creek, and other work that should be done in addition to taking care of the broken down and neglected things to which we fell heir. The tax rate, therefore, will probably be $1.60 or $1.65."

Fate plays another of its strange tricks when it doesn't place mules in the domestic service of a stubborn woman.

Man From Vienna, Austria, Wants to Send Paducah Five Hundred Families

Secretary D. W. Coons, of the Commercial club, has entered with enthusiasm into the immigration work of the club. While in New York he visited the headquarters of all of the steamship companies and interviewed the immigration authorities with the view of getting in touch with it, and since his return he has been doing some excellent work along the lines suggested to him by

HIG SENSATION.

Created by Arrest of Russian Revolutionists.

Zurich Switzerland, Feb. 14.—The police raided a house occupied by Russian revolutionists and discovered a large quantity of bombs and chemicals for making infernal machines, and enormous supplies of revolutionary literature. They also seized one pamphlet headed "A Thousand Roubles Reward to the Brother Who Kills the Czar. We Will Supply the Arms and Guarantee Our Support." Five arrests were made in connection with the discoveries.

DUNNE VETOED GAS BILL.

Claims the Company Should Furnish Cheaper Gas and Light the Streets Gratis.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Mayor Dunne
has vetoed the eighty-five cent gas ordinance. His ground for rejection is that the fifteen-cent cut in price
ought to be lower and that the companies should agree to light the streets free of charge.

TELEPHONE WAR TO BE NEXT IN ORDER

Independent Line May Profit by Other's Predicament.

Plans On Foot to Get 1,500 Signers
to Agreement to Change Service.

COMPROMISE MAY YET BE MADE.

There is every indication of a telephone war in Paducah. Preparations are being made for it now, and soon the battle may be on in earnest. Friends of the new company including some of the members of the legislative boards, seeing they think the impossibility of an early adjustment of the city's and the East Tennessee Telephone Co.'s differences, are at work on a scheme they will spring in a few days.

The plan is to secure 1,500 signers to a contract to take the independent phone on condition that the total of 1,500 signers are secured to the contract. Otherwise it will be invalid. The rate for the phone will be $2.50 a year for business telephones, and the contract for three years.

The friends of the plan say they fear one telephone domination; that the old company is disposed to charge too much for its services and this step is taken as a safeguard against any contingencies.

Officials of the old company, however, profess not to be uneasy about the matter. They claim they have the best service in the city, and have no intention of raising their rates at present; that the people are perfectly willing to pay all that they charge for a good service such as they give
and they believe the public will stay with them.

"We have been here for thirty years," said an official today, "and we have never tried to extort money from the people of your city, and is there any indication from our conduct in the past, that we propose for a moment to do it in the future?"

There is only a difference of 50c
in the two schedules of rates proposed by the city and the company, and the probabilities are that a compromise may yet be made.

FAST MAIL TRAIN JUMPS THE TRACK

Several Train Hands Hurt But
No Passengers Aboard.

Hig Steamer Burns at Honolulu—
Another Believed to Be Lost off Alaska.

L. & N. WRECK IN KENTUCKY

St. Louis, Feb. 14.—The Missouri
Pacific fast mail train which left St.
Louis at 3 o'clock this morning for Kansas City, was wrecked on the east approach to the bridge spanning the Gasconade river, at Gasconade,
Mo., at 5 o'clock.

Three members of the crew and two mail clerks were injured. The cars caught fire and two mail coaches were destroyed and one car partially burned. Two other mail cars were thrown from an embankment at the bridge approach into a ditch
four hundred feet below.

The train consisted of five mail
cars, and carried no passengers.

Wreck in Kentucky.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 14.—In a collision on the Louisville and Nashville near Maurice Station, Ky., a few miles south of Cincinnati, two employees were killed and five injured.
The passengers were shaken up, but,
according to advices received by the Louisville and Nashville officers none were seriously hurt.

The dead:
ENGINEER PETER MURPHY.
FIREMAN JOSEPH STOUT.

Injured:
Engineer James Mahoney.
Conductor P. J. Fitzgerald.
Flagman W. N. Miles.
Baggage-master H. W. Lockwood.
Negro cook in dining car.

Mail Ship Probably Lost.

Seattle, Feb. 14.—That the U.
S. mail steamer Dora, plying between Valdez and Unalaska Alaska, is lost or in serious trouble, seems beyond doubt, as nothing has been heard from her since Dec. 22. The vessel carried a crew of thirty-seven and fifteen or twenty passengers.

Steamer Texas Burning.

Honolulu, Feb. 11.—The steamer
Texas is burning at the wharf here,
and the entire cargo has been surrendered to the underwriters. Both vessel and cargo will be badly damaged.

Three Burn in Kansas Wreck.

Fort Scott, Kan., Feb. 14.—A St.
Louis and San Francisco passenger train was wrecked at Columbus today and Harry Roundtree, express messenger and one passenger and a newsboy, names unknown, were burned to death. Engineer Woods died on the way to the hospital. A passenger train ran into a string of box cars, which broke loose from a freight train.

cused of gallantry; he tells so on a

HOSTILE FEELING IN CHINA GROWING

The Newspapers Daily Add to the Excitement of People.

Uncle Sam Has 5,000 Philippine Scouts Ready to Start at Any Time.

HIG ORDER OF AMMUNITION.

Victoria, B. C., Feb. 14.—According to advices by the steamer Pleiades which arrived today, the Chinese newspapers are daily devoting more and more space to foreigners, and a strong anti-foreign feeling is being shown. Every bit of feeling against foreigners is being fostered, the boycott being but an incident.

Washington, Feb. 14.—There are now about 5,000 of Philippine scouts distributed through the archipelago,
and some of the army officers here who have commanded them in the Philippines are strongly of the opinion that, properly officered by Americans, they would be admirably suited for Chinese service if any American forces were needed there.

It was stated at the war department today that the expediency of ordering another regiment to the Philippines is under consideration.

Uncle Sam Will Be Ready.

Philadelphia, Feb. 14.—An order for 4,000,000 ball cartridges has been received from the ordnance department at the Frankfort arsenal, here. They are to be of 30 caliber and of the Krag Jorgensen type.

Although no information could be obtained at the arsenal as to the reason for this large additional order of cartridges, it is understood they are intended for troops in the Philippines.

These troops it is understood use
the Krag Jorgensen rifle exclusively and it is intimated the increase order for ammunition is in anticipation of possible trouble in China.

The present daily output of cartridges at the arsenal is 170,000 and the new order will increase it 40,000
daily for the next four months.

TAGGART UNSEATED

REPUBLICAN LOSES AFTER ONE OF HOTTEST FIGHTS IN HOUSE.

Stewart, of Calloway, Pones Shot
Into Louisville Democrats
Over Their Stand.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 14.—After one of the most hotly contested fights of the present session the house at noon unseated D. P. Taggart, Republican member from Muhlenburg,
and seated Dr. T. G. Staton,
the Democratic contestant.

Two reports were presented in the case, the minority one signed by four Democratic members of the committee proposing that Taggart be unseated and the minority one signed by three Republican members, declaring Taggart legally elected to the house. The minority report was voted down by 40 to 38 and the majority report adopted by a vote of 43 to 33. The Democratic members from the country districts made a fight for the Republican contestant
and speeches were caustic, many references being made to the election held in Louisville. Stewart, of Calloway county, declared he had voted to seat the Louisville members straight against his convictions in the cases,
and that he thought the body could stand for irregularities complained of in Muhlenburg after endorsing the Louisville election.

Drewry responded that the gentleman from Calloway had been deficient in duty and not faithful to oath
in so voting. The Democratic representatives voting for the minority report were: Barr, Best, Chipman, Entow, Blair, McKnight, R. W. Miller,
Hueller, Osborne, Ray, Stewart, Weldon and Woodford.

DAUGHTER'S DEATH

Franklin, Ky., Feb. 11.—Mrs.
Milete Watson committed suicide
this morning by jumping in a well.
She moved here from Henderson a year ago and two weeks ago her daughter burned to death, and the shock unbalanced the mother's mind.

OLD VESUVIUS ACTIVE.

Streams of Lava Threaten the Railway Property.

Naples, Feb. 14.—The Mount Vesuvius eruption is assuming alarming proportions. The funicular railway track has been damaged at six points
and the principal station is threatened with destruction. An effort is being made to save the station by the construction of a thick wall of masonry reinforced by embankments of sand. Streams of lava are flowing with considerable rapidity, destroying everything in their course. The authorities are taking precautions
to prevent any loss of life.

CHICAGO MURDERERS

Two Are Scheduled to Pay the Death Penalty Friday.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—John Mueller, who killed his wife, and two children
must hang Friday unless Governor Dineen interferes. The supreme court today formally denied Mueller's appeal.

Robert Newcomb, colored, who murdered two men, is also to be hanged on Friday.

SECRETARY FOWLER IS READY TO QUIT

Has Not Moved His Residence,
But Will Retire.

Will Probably Have Judge Reed Pass
on the Question to Establish a Precedent.

NO SUCCESSOR IS DECIDED ON

City Solicitor James Campbell, Jr., rendered his opinion on the eligibility of Secretary of the Board of Public Works Saunders A. Fowler, today to the mayor.

In his opinion he says that he bases his opinion on the information that he has in hand that Mr. Fowler has removed his permanent residence
to his new home outside the city limits.

When seen today, Mr. Fowler said that he has not removed his permanent home outside the city limits;
that he is registered from his city
home, 726 Broadway, and claims that as his home. However, he will not make a contest of the matter, but will retire from the board at once.

"I care nothing for the office," he said today, "and shall retire at once.
However, for my own satisfaction, I shall have my attorneys investigate
the matter, and shall take it before Judge Reed, and have him pass on the question. I shall take this step merely to establish a precedent."

The mayor claims that he has not decided whom he will appoint to the vacancy on the board. He has had a number of names suggested to him,
among them Mr. Charles F. Rieke, and Mr. George Langstaff, but when asked about it today he said: "I don't have any idea whom I shall appoint. I am very sorry Mr. Fowler cannot be continued on the board, as he is an excellent official, and is so well posted on the work the board will have to do this year. I intend to find a man for the place who is absolutely free from any political influences, as I think this board should be free from any partisanship at all."

further meeting of the committee until after the demands are presented

MURDEROUS ASSAULT MADE ON A WOMAN

George Dozier, Only Recently Released, in Worse Trouble.

Assaulted Cora Shims With an Ax
and Poker and She May Die
From Her Injuries.

DOZIER IS UNDER ARREST

George Dozier, colored, attacked Cora Shims, colored, last night with an axe, poker and rock and inflicted injuries which may prove fatal. He is being held in the county jail on the charge of malicious assault with intent to kill, with a chance of having to answer for murder.

Dozier formerly lived in the house with the Shims woman, who has a 16-year-old girl, Anna Dickerson.
Several weeks ago Dozier was fined in police court for whipping the mother and was arraigned several days ago for making a criminal assault on the Dickerson girl. The evidence in the case was not sufficient and Dozier was dismissed. This apparently settled the differences until last night, when Dozier made the murderous attack on the mother.

According to the statement of the daughter this morning in an affidavit made to Police Judge Sanders she and her mother went home, on Madison street near Twelfth, and on opening the door found Dozier lying across the bed. He was ordered out of the house, and arising, in a fit of anger made a charge on the two women.

The women ran into a neighbor's house and Dozier followed. He had procured an axe and poker and with the former smashed in the door and entered. The women managed to escape in the confusion, but Dozier ran out and attacked the mother on the street.

He first struck, it is said, with the axe, inflicting a deep cut in the back.
Before the woman fell he smashed her in the head with the poker and rock. He did all he could to kill her.

One arm was broken in the attack,
the woman's head badly battered up and several cuts inflicted about the body. She cried for help several times, but the bloody assault was committed so quickly that no one had time to run to her assistance.
She fell in the street, where she was found partially unconscious and taken to a neighbor's house.

Physicians were called and administered to her and this morning she was removed to the city hospital.

City Physician Bass stated that she was badly injured, and complications are likely to set in and produce death.

Dozier's case was called this morning in police court but continued until Saturday.

A great deal of excitement was caused by the affair and the woman's screams could be heard for several blocks. A great crowd collected,
but was dispersed by Officers Ferguson and Hill who hastened to the scene and arrested Dozier.

The Shims woman's injuries were carefully examined at Riverside hospital this afternoon and found not to be so serious as at first thought,
but sufficient to confine her to bed
for some time. She will probably recover, the physician and nurses say this afternoon.

MUST BELIEVE IT

When Well-Known Paducah People Tell It So Plainly.

When public endorsement is made by a representative citizen of Paducah the proof is positive. You must believe it. Read this testimony. Every backache sufferer, every man, woman or child with any kidney trouble will find profit in the reading.

W. W. Morris, residing at 902 Bronson street, a school teacher, well-known in Paducah, says: "One of the members of my family has been troubled with kidney disease for some time. A good number of would-be cures were tried but they did not permanently relieve the trouble. We noticed an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills and sent to Alvey & List's drug store and got a box. The pills were used and found to do all that is claimed for them, and we can endorse this remedy to anyone who is a sufferer from kidney trouble for we have great confidence in its merits."

A CONFERENCE

Looking Towards Finding a Building for the New Ice Plant.

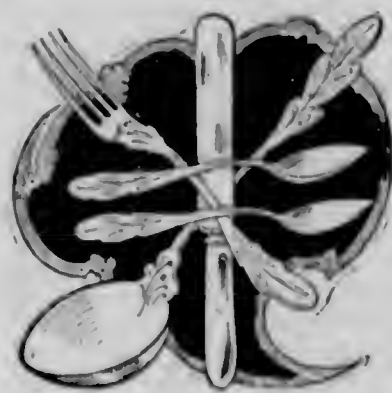

George A. Morris, of St. Louis, and his associates in the proposed new ice factory, L. Hedrick and Dr. G. D. Perry, of Richmond, Ky., will meet the directors of the Southern Peanut company tonight to make them a proposition for their plant on North First street. They are also looking at several other desirable locations for the plant, but will make no decision on a location until the latter part of the week.

"We have purchased all the required machinery for our ice plant," said Mr. Morris today, "and will be ready for business this summer. If our plans go through all right. Our concern will be, in a degree, a local concern, as we have a number of your citizens interested in our company with us."

GRAND LODGE OF THE A. O. U. W. MEETS

Attorney L. K. Taylor the Only Local Delegate There.

Supreme Master Workman III and Unable to Attend—The Order Is Prosperous.

IS 27TH BIENNIAL MEETING.

Attorney L. K. Taylor has gone to Louisville to attend the Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., which convened yesterday.

A Louisville dispatch says that yesterday a telegram of sympathy was sent to Supreme Master Workman Wm. M. Harris, of Mascoutine, Ia., whose illness prevented his attendance at the meeting.

Grand Master Workman S. W. Hedford, of Owensboro, read his report, which showed the affairs of the order to be in prosperous condition. Grand Recorder John G. Walker, of Louisville, and Grand Receiver Jos. G. Covington, of Bowling Green, also read favorable reports.

Supreme Representative Thomas D. Osborne and John G. Walker, of Louisville, and J. T. Simon, of Cincinnati, submitted their report.

About 150 delegates were in attendance at the session.

It is the 27th biennial session of the A. O. U. W. Grand Lodge.

The lodge has a membership in Kentucky of 5,000 and in the United States and Canada a membership of 425,000. Its chief objects are to furnish work for members, aid the sick and bury the dead. There is an insurance feature of $2,000 for the heirs of deceased members. The order was founded by J. J. Upchurch in 1868. It has paid out over $160,000,000 since its organization.

Chief interest in the Louisville meeting is centered in the election of officers, which will take place this afternoon. It is believed that nearly all of the grand officers will be re-elected.

WILL KILL AUTOMOBILING

If These Bills Are Passed By the General Assembly.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 14.—The house committee on railroads has decided to report favorably several measures. Frazier's bill to require automobilists to take out license in every county which they traverse was adopted by a minority report, although Ed Croan showed to the committee the utter absurdity of such a measure. The bill will practically prevent any automobilist from traversing Kentucky, and is a notification to people living outside of the state that they must not come to Kentucky.

The committee decided to report favorably W. D. Claybrook's bill extending the time that railroads must report accidents to the railroad commission from five to fifteen days. It reported senate bill 69, allowing union depot companies to condemn land, with an amendment that the bill cannot apply to cities of the first class.

Zeb A. Stewart's bill making it unlawful for railroads and express companies to overcharge was returned to him with instructions to cut out that section, and to make the bill require simply that all freight or express packages be marked "prepaid." If they were prepaid, so there would be no danger of charging the recipient. The same committee had before it a bill requiring numbered tags on autos and fixing a charge of fifty cents for the tags. This bill received a favorable report.

FREIGHT ENGINES

May Be Used by the I. C. For Passenger Engines.

Officials on the I. C. are considering the advisability of converting the No. 1 class of freight engines for passenger service and in order to do this one improvement will have to be made, a heavier tire placed on the drivers.

The engines are smooth running engines and give less trouble to the road by derailment than any other class. For this reason the idea of putting on a tire to make the wheels 72 to 73 inches, requisite for passenger runs, was conceived and will no doubt be executed. If it is, the Louisville division will get a new set of the engines, it is said.

New Routes and Postmasters. Washington, Feb. 14.—Rural route No. 6, is ordered established March 15 at Murray, Calloway county, serving 504 people and 112 houses.

These postmasters are appointed: Clisco, Magoffin county, Joseph Francis; Tinsley, Bell county, Maggie Ray.

$1,000 REWARD MAY BE OFFERED SOON

For the Arrest of Mrs. Rosa Mangrum's Slayer.

Already the Rewards Amount to $600—The Detectives Are Working Hard and Saying Nothing.

THEIR CLUES NOT REVEALED

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 14.—It is a settled fact now that the reward in the Mangrum murder case will amount to good proportions. Gov. John I. Cox a few days since offered a reward of $250 for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Mrs. Rosa Mangrum, who disappeared from this city December 14. Relatives of the murdered woman who live at Jackson have announced that they will offer $250 in addition to the reward offered by the state.

In addition to this J. O. Mangrum, husband of the murdered woman, has announced that he will offer a reward on his part of $100 for arrest and conviction. This brings the reward up to a total of $600. Mrs. Logan Tronsdale, sister of Mrs. Mangrum, who has been active in pursuing the investigation, but who has gone to her home at Birmingham, Ala., to recuperate for a few days, has not yet announced what sum she will add to the present reward, but it is thought she will offer something like $100 or $150, which will bring the reward up to about $750.

While nothing of a definite nature has been learned, there have been rumors going round that business men of the city would send a subscription list around and make an effort to raise a sum of several hundred dollars to be added to the reward in order that a sum approximating $1,000 or $1,200 be had. So much comment has been made on this case, which has attracted attention throughout the country, that residents of the city, almost as a unit are feverishly anxious that the guilty be brought to justice within a short time.

While they have given out no definite statement as to what clues they have on hand, it is an evident fact that the detectives at work on the case have not worked in vain for the past two weeks and are in possession of clues and threads of evidence which are destined to ultimately lead them on the track of the murderer. Little by little they have gained headway in what was at first a complete puzzle, and though some points about it have not and may never be cleared up, they have enough to weave out a dangerous web of circumstantial evidence.

The officers are not inclined in the least to act hastily and wish to be thoroughly satisfied that they are on the right track before they take any definite action in the case. A rash move might ruin their plans and prevent the mystery from being cleared up, and they are working toward not doing anything like this.

Capt. John A. Dicks, a frequenter of the Vanderbilt campus and supposed to have the "second sight," called up the Nashville police station a few days since and told of a dream he had had, in which he beheld the murder. He states that it appeared to him that a man went to Mrs. Mangrum's berth in a sleeping car and took her body in his arms and threw it into the Ohio river as the train passed over the bridge at Henderson, Ky. Mrs. Mangrum was found with hat and gloves on, however, and thus the dream of the dreamer is dissipated into thin air.

NICK'S GRANDPA

Once Owned Property Near Cairo, Illinois.

Cairo, Ill., Feb. 14.—Michael Longworth, grandfather of the prospective son-in-law of President Roosevelt, was once the owner of several tracts of land in Pulaski county, which are now among the finest fruit farms of that section. A patent granted by President Andrew Jackson in 1829, is part of the records at the courthouse here. The farms of George Gould, L. Redden, J. H. Aldrich, N. L. Koonce, W. R. Crain, E. M. Titus and others are included in the tract.

Mr. T. M. Nance,
Manager Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Co.,

Dear Sir:—

As beneficiaries of the late Wm. Porteous, we desire to thank you and your company for the liberal treatment we received at your hands in the settlement of the policies held in your company. Such liberality certainly shows that your company must be very economically managed. We hereby recommend your company to those who desire the best in Life Insurance.

MARY AND MAGGIE PORTEOUS,
Mother and Niece.

The beneficiaries in the above case struck the keynote to life insurance when they said economy, for in that lies the success of a company. This is an interesting case, as through ill health Mr. Porteous was incapacitated to attend to business and his policies lapsed recently, but as usual this company's nonforfeiting automatic extended insurance, (which is the greatest of any company) protected the beneficiaries for more than nine years notwithstanding the policies were only four years old.

Another interesting feature of Mr. Porteous' policies was that he took advantage of our wonderful 20 per cent premium loan (that agents of other companies worry over so much for fear it will eat up our policies) and besides this premium loan carrying one fifth of his insurance it was half paid off by our ANNUAL DIVIDENDS, thus cutting cost down to much less than nonparticipating rates.

If YOU are interested call on me, what we did for Mr. Porteous' beneficiaries we can do for YOURS.

DEMOCRATS INDORSING ROOSEVELT.

It does not look that the Santo Domingo treaty will obtain the necessary two-thirds vote and secure ratification, says the Louisville Herald. Five democratic senators at least are looked on to support the measure. Senator Patterson, of Colorado, has, from his place in the senate chamber itself, declared for the treaty. Senator McEnery, of Louisiana, is another democrat who favors the instrument. Senator Simmons, of North Carolina, has not yet declared himself on the subject in Washington, but at a speech-making in his own state expressed himself in terms favorable to the president's position in that and other regards.

Senator Patterson may be taking the Santo Domingo treaty as a stepping stone to leaving the democratic cockpit. He has had a checkered political career. He bolted the democratic national ticket in 1892 because free silver had been voted down in the convention, and subsequently joined the populist under Weaver. When Bryan was nominated in 1896 on a democratic free silver platform Mr. Patterson gave him warm support, and has been since identified with the party.

But the western man is usually very pronounced in his nationalism. The free bracing atmosphere of mountain and plain is intolerant of narrowness or ancestral prejudice. Such things cannot live in a climate exclusively for the vigorous and the virile. If Senator Patterson has decided to quit democracy he will be following the lead of Colorado's majority. If he stay his political extinction is but a question of months.

Other democratic senators are expected to follow the example of Senators Patterson, McEnery and Simmons. The Santo Domingo treaty is the most valuable assertion of the Monroe doctrine ever yet made. It is in line with platform after platform of the democracy in ante-bellum days, and in disagreement with none save the Chicago screed of 1896, the Kansas City crazy-quilt of 1900 and the St. Louis utterance of folly in 1904.

The Monroe doctrine will, through the agency of that treaty, be easily enforced. Without the treaty a foreign government might any day, under pretence of collecting debts, establish itself at our bounds and sit down permanently at the very gates of our Isthmian canal. Every vote cast against the Rooseveltian policy in Santo Domingo will be a denial of the Monroe doctrine's efficiency.

Link Steffens, in his last letter from Washington, says Chicago has restored representative government. Yes, Link, it looks that way. Hinky Dink and Bathhouse John are still in the council. Dunne is mayor, and as a municipal ownership advocate is touting a scheme by which the traction lines of the city are to be purchased with a $75,000,000 bond issue, which will be sold to people who will get the lines back again after they are wrecked and at a small percentage on the cost price. Yes, Chicago has gone back to representative government that is so unworthy the name that seventy-five murders were committed in two months, and but a fraction of the murderers arrested. Link will have to guess again if he expects people to believe him.—Evansville Journal-News.

People are very much amused at the position taken by the mayor and city solicitor on the question of eligibility of members of the board of public works. Their stand would perhaps be well taken provided the members admitted that their legal residence is outside the city limits. But they don't. They claim that their legal residence is inside the city limits, and that they will continue to claim it as their home, register from the same precinct, and vote there. If anyone can get around this, and claim that the city is not the legal residence of these gentlemen when they vote here, he can do something that no one else has ever succeeded in doing.

Pat Dolan is hot after President Mitchell, of the Mine Workers, and is telling the latter some things which must cut to the quick. Dolan may be right or may be wrong in the position he has assumed, but the following from his address shows that he is inclined to be more fair than the average leader: "From boyhood I learned that it is a leader's duty to tell his people—not what they would like to hear, but what they should know. They must be told when they are in the wrong as well as applauded when they are in the right."

If there is a smaller tax rate than usual this year, and the mayor undertakes to claim any credit for it, which he seems disposed to do, he will have to admit that he was able to do something under a Republican administration that he could never do under his own.

City and county supervisors all over the state have long since finished their work, but here they continue to take their time, at so much "per diem per day," for which the taxpayers put up the money.

NEW RAILROAD TO BUILD BRIDGES.

A Washington dispatch says: "Representative James today introduced a bill authorizing the Cairo and Tennessee railroad to build a bridge over the Tennessee river between Brainerd's Mill, in Calloway county, and Birmingham, Marshall county, Ky. He also introduced a bill authorizing the same company to construct a bridge across the Cumberland river between Linport, Stewart county, Tenn., and the Tennessee Rolling Works, Lyon county, Ky."

HONORED CAREER

Ended in the Death of Mr. Jacob Fry at Melber.

The following details of the death of Mr. Jacob Fry, a prominent resident of Melber, have been received by the Sun:

Jacob W. Fry was born Aug. 22, 1833, in Green county, Tenn., and died at the home of his son in Melber, Ky., Feb. 12, 1906, age 72 years, 6 months and 20 days.

He moved with his father and mother to Massac county, Illinois, in 1843, and was married to Mary A. Dye, September 6, 1851. Their union being blessed with 10 children as follows: Emily E., James H., Maggie J., Mary E. P., John W., Lagan M., Dollie, Oscar, Jacob and Samuel. All of whom have preceded him except one son, John W. Fry, of Melber. He leaves one brother, Henry D. Fry, of Metropolis, Ill., and two sisters, Mrs. Martha Dye and Mrs. Katie Armstrong, of Brookport, Ill. He moved to Metropolis, Ill., shortly after he married and resided there until April 3, 1883, at which time he moved to Melber, Ky., and engaged in the milling business. Selling his interest in the milling business at Melber to his son, he moved to Brookport, Ill., and engaged in the flour mill business there, but moved back to Melber in February, 1904. His wife died February 29, 1904, and since then he has made his home with his son. His death was caused from the effects of grip he contracted several years ago.

MARINE RULES MUST BE STRICTLY OBEYED

Government Hauls Up Two Popular River Men Here.

Capt. Buckingham and Engineer St. John Charged With Moving Boats Without License.

ARE ONLY SMALL INFRACTIONS.

A marine reform campaign has been started in and about Paducah, and the first guns fired were turned loose yesterday when two steamboat men were arrested and held over to the action of the federal court at the next term in April, for the alleged violation of marine laws.

Captain Ed. Buckingham, of the steamer Pavonia, and Engineer Joe St. John, of the steamer Jesse B., were yesterday held over by Commissioner W. A. Gardner for the alleged moving of a boat without a pilot's license, the alleged offense being of several weeks standing. Both men gave bond in the sum of $100 and will be given a hearing on the 16th of April.

It is alleged that Capt. Buckingham moved the Pavonia about when loose from moorings, up the Cumberland river, a stream on which he is not licensed as a pilot.

It is alleged that Engineer St. John moved the Jesse B. across the Ohio near Golconda to secure a pilot on the opposite side of the river.

These are small matters in the eyes of marines, but to the government it means just as much as if the offense had been greater. Rules are rules, and the government is very strict.

U. S. Deputy Marshal Wade Brown who was formerly an engineer on the river served the papers on both above mentioned gentlemen and brought them before the commissioner, who held them over. In speaking of the matter, when asked for a statement by a reporter this morning, he stated that he had received the papers on his installation into office. The offenses alleged to have been committed are of several weeks standing and before he came into office.

"It is a fact that the government is very strict in its marine rules, and I might say truthfully that in all cases where river men overstep the law in very small matters, were reported to the authorities, hardly a river man would escape." Deputy Marshal Brown declared. "I have been on the river for years and it is a frequent occurrence where an unlicensed pilot moves a boat, generally in an emergency such as is alleged in the case of both Capt. Buckingham and Engineer St. John."

The alleged acts attributed to the two steamboat men were reported with others, it is said, and an active campaign has been started. River men will in the future probably exercise more care in their actions and will not touch a wheel unless they are licensed to do so. Pilots who are not licensed in certain territory are looked upon in that territory the same as a person who has no license. There are other rules such as the stringing of life lines and other small requirements often overlooked, which will be closely looked after in the future.

Deputy Marshal Brown has just returned from several adjacent counties where he served papers Monday and is today looking after his office business, which accumulated with great rapidity.

In addition to the above, yesterday's Nashville Banner gives the following of interest here:

"Local steamboat inspectors Green and Macdonald have suspended for six months Pilot John L. Young and Mate Edward Lannon of the steamer Dudley for intemperance. They were caught in an intoxicated condition by Inspector Macdonald on a visit to the craft several days ago. The inspectors will hereafter enforce the rule requiring temperance even more forcibly than in the past."

"The inspectors have notified Chas. Davis, first-class pilot of the steamer Pavonia, that charges have been preferred against him by them, and that they will investigate the collision between his boat and the Castalia at Paducah at an early date."

"At the request of Maj. H. C. Newcomer, who is in charge of the river improvement work in this district, Inspector Macdonald yesterday made an inspection of the boilers of the government boats Cumberland, John and Henry."

Steamboat Captain Arrested.
"Capt. Frank White of the steamer Dunbar was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy United States Marshal J. M. Duggan on a warrant issued by United States Commissioner E. L. Doak on the complaint of two negro deck hands, who complained that he had beat them while out on a trip. His case is set for hearing at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning."—Nashville Banner.

MORE WINTER

MERCURY DROPPED TO FREEZING POINT AGAIN.

Still Colder Weather Predicted.—Where Daily Report is Easily Obtained.

Residents of Paducah awoke this morning to find that the weather had grown much colder instead of continuing to moderate, as it did from yesterday morning.

The records in Government Observer Wm. Bornemann's office show the highest reached yesterday to be 53 and the lowest this morning 30, two degrees below freezing point. The temperature did not rise much during the day and colder weather is predicted.

The report sent out from the Louisville office reads: "Partly cloudy and decidedly colder tonight. Cold wave. Thursday fair and colder."

Observer Bornemann receives many telephone messages relative to the weather reports, and for the convenience of the public, and as a matter of economy to him in his time, has cards with the predictions carefully lettered, stuck up in banks, at the hotels and postoffice, and other public places. The telephone companies are supplied with the report the minutes after it is received here, and any one wishing to learn the predictions may do so by telephoning either the Home or Cumberland telephone exchanges.

I'm till now the countess has not decided upon a course of action, but that there is a possible chance of amicable settlement is indicated by the fact that although she refuses to answer the count's letters, she has, through her lawyers, replied to an inquiry from the count as to whether it was her desire that he should retire from politics, saying she would require a few days to consider the matter before giving a definite answer.

The countess was very indignant today on the receipt of a letter from the agent of a New York publishing firm enclosing 1,250 francs and a request that she write an article describing the domestic difficulties which led to her suit for separation. The countess immediately returned the money, denouncing the agent's impudence and giving him a lecture on the subject of gentlemanly manners and behavior.

CITY'S HEALTH

Will Be Considered at Meeting of Joint Committees.

The members of the council ordinance committee, the board of health and the board of public works will hold a meeting before the next council meeting to take up the suggestions the board of health and board of works have to make for better sanitary conditions and to consider some legislation the board of health wants passed before spring.

"A mild winter means we shall have a good deal of sickness and we want to get to work in earnest soon so as to have the city in a good condition before warm weather comes," said a member of the board of health today. "The inspectors will be started the 1st of March, and we have other suggestions to make the council. They have promised to help us and we intend to make our board as effective as we can."

Mrs. Uterback's Party.

Mrs. James Uterback's Valentine card party yesterday afternoon at her handsome home in Arcadia, was a very charming affair. Hearts were used throughout in the decorations, but the colors varied in the different rooms. The double parlors were in pink carnations and hearts, the library and reception hall were in green and the dining room in red. The course-luncheon served in each room reproduced its color-effect in the ices and cakes. The prizes were four in number and were won by Mrs. Herman Wallerstein in a cut with Mrs. Saunders Fowler; Miss Mildred Terrell, Mrs. James Campbell, Jr., and Miss Clara Thompson.

Mrs. Uterback's guest-list included over one hundred invitations and there were twenty-three tables at cards.

Mrs. Hughes Complimented.

Mrs. Charles Trueheart entertained one table of eight-handed euchre this afternoon in honor of Mrs. William Hughes, of Paducah, who is the guest of Mrs. J. Moss Terry. Her guests were: Mesdames William Hughes, A. E. McBee, Alfred Webb, of St. Louis; Hershel Porter, Richard Morgan, J. Moss Terry, W. B. Pace, Arthur Robinson. —Louisville Post.

Matinee Musical Club.

The Matinee Musical club is holding its regular bi-weekly meeting this afternoon at the Eagle club house on Broadway. A very attractive Mozart, Handel and Haydn program is being given. Mrs. Dennis Macquart is the leader for the afternoon. It is an invitational meeting, and two guests are allowed each member.

To Marry Tomorrow.

Mr. Frank Burrows and Miss Floy Lee Hintze, of the city, were granted a marriage license this afternoon. They will marry tomorrow at the Catholic parsonage. Both are well known and popular young people of the South Side.

Luncheon to Miss Holland.

Mrs. Eli Hoone at her home, on South Sixth street, will entertain with a one-o'clock luncheon on Thursday, the 22d, in honor of Miss Nell Holland. Twelve of Miss Holland's girl friends will be the guests.

St. Valentine German.

The Cotillon club will give a german this evening at the Palmer House in especial honor of St. Valentine. It will be one of the most delightful club dances of the season.

Valentine Card Party.

Mrs. Robert L. Reeves is entertaining at cards this afternoon at her home on Jefferson street. It is a Valentine party with many pretty features.

Dr. Richard Walker, who has been ill for several weeks, and was in Dyersburg, Tenn., writes that he has gone to the Gulf coast to remain until he has fully recovered.

Miss Adah Enders has recovered from a mild attack of appendicitis.

Willard McCormick, who was injured recently on the dock by a block of wood striking him in the head, is able to be out.

Miss Mamie Frakes is on the sick list.

R. L. Teal and others deed to W. E. Everts, for $1,800, property near Ninth and Adams street.

Dr. H. P. Sights has returned from Henderson where he was called by his brother's death last week.

IN THE COURTS

Police Court.

Police Judge D. L. Sanders was occupying the bench in police court again this morning, after a two days' absence from the city.

Judge Sanders left Sunday and in response to a question where he had been, said today: "Just tell them that I have been off on a lark."

During his absence Attorney D. A. Cross was special police judge.

Florence Greer, colored, a familiar character in court, was fined $20 and costs for a breach of the peace.

Floss Edwards, Farley McChord and Willis Alexander, white, were fined $5 and costs for a breach of the peace.

Other cases: Sam Parson, colored, drunkenness, $1 and costs; Cliff Meyer, white, drunk and disorderly, $5 and costs.

Circuit Court.

Circuit Judge William Reed this morning set aside the order fining Mrs. Manie Cooley McMannon and Attorney Hal S. Corbett for contempt of court. The fines were assessed during the present session of court during the trial of jury cases. Mrs. McMannon arrived late one afternoon and Attorney Hal Corbett did also a short time afterward. The fines were $5 each.

Givens-Clark & Co., filed suit today against H. H. Harris & Co., for $345 alleged to be due on account.

An order relative to the submission of evidence by briefs was filed in the case of Rosa Robertson against Josie Sebastiane.

A judgment for sale was filed in the case of Willie Weakes petition ex parte.

A judgment for $140 was filed in the case of the Westinghouse Co., against T. L. Easley.

County Court.

F. Hummel, Jr., today qualified as a notary public.

Power of attorney was filed in county court today by Matilda Brooks to A. Y. Martin.

Madora Powell and others deed to James Gibson, for $1,500, property in the county.

Petition in Bankruptcy.

Ryan Ferguson, a merchant of Murray, Calloway county, filed a petition in bankruptcy this afternoon. His liabilities amount to $2,375.80, no assets. He owes a few Paducah firms, the largest Paducah debts being as follows: George O. Hart & Sons, $14.52; Weakes Bros. Co., $160; Covington Bros., $20; R. G. Terrell & Co., $117, and Noble-Overby Co., $250.

To Try Tom Loftus for Lunacy.

Tom Loftus, who was fined Monday for drunkenness in police court, will be tried tomorrow for lunacy. It is announced this afternoon. Loftus lived here years ago and moved to Fulton, where he now resides. He was sent to the asylum at Hopkinsville from there, but did not remain. He is about 75 years old and his mind has been destroyed by whisky.

INCOMING TRAINS MAY BE STOPPED

At Trimble Street and Broadway by the I. C.

Supt. Egan Has the Matter Under Advisement, and Believes the Trains Will Be Stopped.

MEETS COMMITTEE HERE SOON.

Supt. A. H. Egan, of the Louisville division of the I. C., is in Paducah today on business, and will go to Evansville tonight to appear in court.

Mr. Egan was seen last night by President O. B. Starks, of the board of aldermen, relative to the incoming passenger trains on the Cairo extension stopping at Eleventh and Broadway for the convenience of passengers residing in the center of the city or on the North side.

The board wants the trains stopped at this junction and a committee was appointed to meet the superintendent in regard to the matter. Supt. Egan stated last night that he had the matter under advisement but had reached no conclusion. He will of course have to meet the committee first and see just what is wanted. The desire of the committee will then be made known to the high officials in Chicago and it is for them to act.

Supt. Egan was inclined to believe that the road will stop the incoming trains at Eleventh and Broadway if the city does not ask that the outgoing trains stop there, which would necessitate another depot or office for the sale of tickets and the handling of baggage.

Mr. Egan will return to Paducah probably Saturday and will then arrange a meeting with the committee.

KENTUCKY NEWSLETS

Patents For Kentuckians.
 Washington, Feb. 14.—The following patents have been issued to Kentuckians: John S. Cully, Louisville, construction; Jacob Hoppel, Anchorage, wagon break; Benjamin H. Hawser, Mount Eden, adjustable support; Tom L. Landrum, Louisville, paper box or carton; Col. W. Lanham, Stanford, corn planter; James W. Maxey, Louisville, straightening wooden handles.

Death Near Fulton.
 Fulton, Ky., Feb. 14.—W. F. Hester, of the Palestine neighborhood, died at his home of pneumonia. He was a soldier in the Confederate army in the 46th Tennessee regiment under Colonel Clark. Mr. Hester was an old and highly respected citizen, and was 64 years of age. He leaves a wife and two daughters. He was a brother of S. J. Hester of this city.

Futility Shown.
 Louisville, Ky., Feb. 14.—The county board of equalization has reduced the assessed valuation of the Southern Pacific railroad from $50,000,000 to $500,000. The Southern Pacific is incorporated in Kentucky and its legal home is at Beechmont, Jefferson county. Therefore it was sought to assess it for Jefferson county on all its property of whatever description wherever located, but recent adverse decisions of the high courts have shown the futility of this.

Railroad Nearly Complete.
 Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 14.—It is said that the Kentucky Valley railroad, the line being built from Wheatcroft to Providence will be completed within the next few days, and that trains will be running into Providence within a week. This road will give Providence freight shippers an outlet with the Illinois Central road, the Kentucky Valley connecting with that road at Wheatcroft. It will also open a good coal field in Webster county, and several new mines along the line of the new road will be opened in the near future.

Double Tragedy at Wheatcroft.
 Wheatcroft, Ky., Feb. 14.—Abe Wallace, aged nineteen, shot and killed his fifteen-year-old wife and then committed suicide by shooting. The double tragedy occurred in the street. Wallace and his wife had been married about six months. His wife had left him several times and they were living apart at the time of the tragedy. Mrs. Wallace had been staying with relatives near town. Wallace went to see her twice on Sunday to try to induce her to return and live with him, but was not successful. At about 6 o'clock in the evening he met her walking with a girl friend. Shoving the girl aside he shot his wife over the right eye. Immediately afterward he placed the pistol to his side and shot himself. Death in each case was almost instantaneous.

DOG DIES FOR HIS MASTER

Fredericksburg, Tex., Feb. 14.—Nat Crenweige was found dead under a tree five miles from home. Five hundred men were out for several days looking for him.

Yesterday Peter Ahrens, a friend, consulted a medium at Kerrville. He said Crenweige was six miles from home and told in what direction to go. The body was found near the place told of by the medium.

To Investigate Women Wage-Earners.
 Washington, Feb. 14.—Secretary Shaw submitted to congress a recommendation of Secretary Metcalf of the department of commerce and labor that $200,000 additional be included in the estimate for miscellaneous expenses in the bureau of labor to make a comprehensive investigation into the condition of women wage-earners in the United States.

To Move a Whole Town.
 Fort Worth Tex., Feb. 14.—The entire town of Bronte, Cooke county, is to be moved about two miles to a new location on the line of the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railway. The town has a population of about 800, with two churches, four general stores and a number of fine residences.

Killed By Bite of a Goose.
 Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 14.—Former Councilman Samuel Waggaman is dead here, aged 83. The bite of a goose caused blood poisoning, resulting fatally. Waggaman was formerly an Indian trader and a noted hunter.

New Use for Stars and Stripes.
 Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 14.—With a common kitchen chair draped with an American flag George Strickler prevented the erection of an electric light pole in front of his home. He placed the chair directly over a hole dug by linemen. The workmen refused to touch the flag and erected the pole to one side of Strickler's home.

An Unbidden Guest.
 Louisville, Ky., Feb. 14.—The stork was an unbidden guest at a wedding at Germania Hall. Mrs. Jacob Liebson, after dancing twice at the nuptials of Israel Goldberg and Gussie Hirschberg, retired in the cloakroom and a physician was called. While the band played Jacob Liebson, Jr., put in an appearance.

May "Rush the Can."
 Kansas City, Feb. 14.—Does the process technically described as "rushing the can" when conducted across the state line become a matter of interstate commerce? Judge Brady decided in police court that it does. Jackson Jones was arraigned on a charge of "rushing the growler." He admitted the charge, but said he had bought the beer in a Kansas "Joint" and brought it across to relieve the drought on this side of the line. "I believe this arrest is interfering with interstate commerce," said Judge Brady as he discharged Jones.

Gave His Life for His Master.
 Sterling, Ill., Feb. 14.—A faithful shepherd dog gave his life in a vain effort to save his master, Ernest Mayberry, from death in Rock river. When Mayberry fell into the icy water the dog plunged after him, but was unable, on account of the boy's frantic struggles, to pull him to shore. When the bodies were recovered a short time later the boy's arms were clasped about the dog's neck.

REBATE CASES

ARE AGAIN PASSED ON BY THE APPELLATE COURT.

Companies Not Liable Unless They Knew of Rebating—Of Interest Here.

The court of appeals for the second time within a few months, has decided that an insurance company is not liable to a penalty for rebating when the facts shown establish the company's ignorance of the rebating. The last decision rendered was yesterday, and it is of local interest because it establishes the law in the cases in McCracken and Marshall counties in which the Interstate Life Insurance company of Indianapolis, Ind., is charged with rebating, and which are test cases which will decide about $50,000 worth of similar suits.

The decision rendered by the court of appeals yesterday is:

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 12.—The court of appeals, in an opinion by Judge Barker, reversed the Bourbon circuit court in the United States Life Insurance company of New York vs. the commonwealth. The action was instituted under Section 656 for offense of rebating on life insurance premiums. The policy in question was issued to Ford Brent by a sub-agent, E. R. Odor. The facts fall to disclose in the record that the rebating was known by General Agent Dorsey. The court follows the case of the Equitable vs. the commonwealth, 28 Kentucky Reporter, and holds that the company cannot be held criminally liable for acts of its agents unless it has previous information and has assented to the transaction. The lower court found for the appellant. This court directs the dismissal of the action.

The cases in McCracken and Marshall have not been settled. Two trials in the McCracken court resulted in hung juries. Circuit Judge Reed decided in the Marshall county cases that the company was not liable unless it could be shown that it knew of the rebating, leaving the questions here only of fact. The company claims that Mike Caldwell rebated without his knowledge and consent, and Caldwell, who was former agent, claims he was acting under instructions.

NOTHING YET HEARD
 From the Missing Son of Dr. L. S. Myers.

Evansville, Ind., Feb. 14.—No news has been received from Dr. L. S. Myers, who went to Hardy, Ark., in search of his kidnapped son and it is supposed his visit has been without success. It is believed he will visit Spadra, Ark., before he returns home.

The interest in the search for the lost child has not decreased. Nearly every newspaper in the middle west and in the south has lent its aid to the search for the boy. The Motor Way, a Journal for automobilists published in Chicago, Ill., in a recent issue publishes the history of the kidnapped child and his description and asks automobilists to look for him in their trips over the country.

Box Destined For Transport Meade
Exploded When Dropped.

San Francisco, Feb. 11.—The Post says that H. L. Augheran, an expressman was seriously injured by a mysterious explosion, and is now in the hospital, his condition being such that he cannot be interviewed.

It is alleged that Augheran was employed to convey a box belonging to Company B, Second United States Infantry to the transport Meade, and that he accidentally dropped the box

the contents of which immediately exploded.

The box is declared to have been similar to one which previously had been placed on the Meade in the section of the hold where the fatal fire occurred, the origin of which remains a mystery.

A commission of officers is investigating the matter.

CHAPTER IX.

MEANWHILE, during Raymond's days on the ranch, while the cattle were withering away on the plains and the long trail from the south was diling with grass, a most notable settlement had been forming like some new kind of parasitic growth on the westward shoulder of old Mogalyon, the mighty peak to the west.

In the midst of the mountains, in the lap of two smooth, grassy domes, old Phillip Le Beau established a cow camp in the early seventies and called it "Helle Marie, after his wife. This, however, proved to be too fanciful for his cowboy neighbors, who promptly called it "Le Beau's Hole," and in the end it was known among cattlemen as Bozle Creek.

Just west of Le Beau's camp, and sentinel to the valley of the Loup, stood a symmetrical peak which some missionary to the red people had called Mount Horeb. About the year 1870 some persons not missionaries planted gold in the soil in convenient places at the base of this hill and raised a mighty shout over the discovery of a new El Dorado. A rush took place, and to the outside world the region became known as "the Mount Horeb mining district" and was aliuded to with deep seated resentment, with curses.

But there were miners whom neither the dogmatic opinions of geologists nor the tricks of schemers could turn aside from a faith that somewhere on the mighty slopes of Mogalyon lay veins of gold, and these continued to chip and to dig and to hammer.

Valley Springs was becoming known as a pleasant health resort, and the waters of its springs were being bottled and shipped to the eastern cities. Each year a larger number of stricken ones came to find respite, if not recovery, in its gloriously bright sunlight and pure air. For years it remained a village and its business men merely shopkeepers and resident ranch owners, but as its fame spread families of wealth and social position in the east began to settle along the bank of the Beau and to build houses into which the sunlight streamed with healing angle, and the men of these families began to look about for business and for investment, and not a few of them were in the mood to listen when rough bearded men began to pick down the trail from Bozle Creek bringing tales of promising ore.

Returned from these samples, sent away to be assayed, started a flight of golden eagles east and west. Again the adventurous youth, the skilled prospector, the gambler and all the uneasy and shifting elements that follow such lures poured into the valley and tolled over the trail to the grassy hills of Bozle.

At first, though short of breath by reason of the altitude, two full miles above the sea, some of these newcomers laughed and some were angry. "Gold! in these grassy hills? Impossible!" And they went away again with bitter words. It was Mount Horeb repeated on a large scale.

But the answers, the men of learning, persisted and in their little mortars brayed the ore and in tiny portable furnaces smelted for many a sturdy minor white buttons of shining metal. The gold was there, and at last even the most skeptical believed. Then the inflow began in earnest. The trail was beaten smooth by swarming feet. It became a stage road. A great railroad sent surveyors toiling up each of the deep and winding canyons in the attempt to reach the mighty camp whose fame was beginning to shine throughout the world. The beautiful grassy hills were blotched with eruptions of red earth. Paths appeared leading from burrow to burrow like runways in a town of prairie dogs.

The main street of Bozle was 10,000 feet above the sea, but at last, on the top of Pine mountain, a vein of ore running $2,000 to the ton was discovered, and another town arose—full 11,000 feet above sea level—the highest town in all America, and this became at once celebrated above all others and was called Skytown.

In the end Skytown dominated the whole camp and gave name to it. Bozle, Grass Mountain, Pine Gulch, Hoffman, all were subordinate in fame as they were topographically, and the press aliuded to the region as the Skytown mining district.

In those days the barroom of the Mountain House in Bozle was the central stock exchange of the whole camp. It swarmed of an evening with business men from Denver, Kansas City, Chicago, Salt Lake City, San Francisco and New York. Every great newspaper had its representative there, alert and indefatigable, seeking the latest word of strikes and sales.

At the time when Raymond entered it Skytown was the busiest, most vital and in some ways the most picturesque mining district in the world. It was at its height as a poor man's camp. New territory was being opened up each day. Each evening brought stories of strikes—scores of them.

The streets of Bozle were graceless and graceless, but Valley Springs was a bazaar of trees and growing vines. The houses of the peak were tents, slab shacks and cabins of aspen poles, and rounded so, while splendid stone palaces had already appeared in the valley, and every comfort and nearly every luxury of the east was obtainable, almost common.

Skytown was the cupola of Sky camp. It surveyed the whole field, dominated only by the glittering crest of Mogalyon, which rose nearly 4,000 feet higher into the thin and deckless air. Bozle and Hoffman and Indian Creek and Eureka and a half dozen other villages lay below.

This was the town, the camp, toward which Raymond had been gazing in longing and irresolution for two years and to which he directed his steps as soon as he was able to walk with something of his old time vigor.

For a week he did nothing but stroll slowly up and down the streets of Bozle, studying his surroundings, listening to all that was said and asking searching questions of every man who seemed to know anything of mining matters. The altitude at first troubled him greatly, but he ate well and slept well, and day by day his strength and native resolution expanded within him, and he began to definitely seek a place whereon to try his hands at labor.

One night as he sat toasting his shins before the big fire in the hotel he became immensely interested in the grand physical proportions and easy, unstudied grace of a middle aged miner who stood with his back to the fire replying to the rapid questions of a young reporter whose head was bent absently above his notebook and pencil. The prospector satisfied every requisite of a mountaineer. His massive head, covered with grizzled hair; his handsome, weather beaten, smiling face; his worn leath boots, spattered with mud; his rusty brown jacket and his broad hat, worn with careless yet unflinching grace, made him easily the most picturesque figure in the room, and when some one clapped him on the back and called out, "Hello, Kelly!" Raymond realized, with a pleasant warming of the heart, that he was looking upon Rocky Mountain Kelly, who knew the ranges of the west as intimately as the lines on the palm of his hand.

Seeking opportunity, he touched the big man on the shoulder. "Are you Matthew Kelly?"

Kelly turned his keen gray eyes on his questioner. "I am, sir. What can I do for ye?"

"I've heard you're a good natured man," began Raymond.

Kelly slid his hand into his pocket. "How much is it?"

Raymond laughed. "Do I look like that?"

"You look like a sick man," replied Kelly, scrutinizing him. "And a hungry man."

"I'm neither," Raymond smilingly replied. "I've just eaten the supper they serve here, and I'm fairly comfortable, but I want to ask your advice about a business matter. If you had a little money and wanted to break into mining, what would you do?"

"Take out a lease," answered Kelly promptly.

"Do you know of a promising property to lease?"

"I do."

"Will you show it to me?"

"I will."

Raymond was amused by the crisp succinctness of these replies. It was plain that the prospector was slyly him up, and favorably.

Kelly indicated a chair. "Sit down, man; ye look like a citizen with a lung faded. Where are ye from?"

"I'm a rancher from the plains."

"And ye want to mine?"

"Yes."

"It's ninety-nine chances to one ye lose y'r wad."

"I know it."

Pain

Wears Out the Nerves.

Do you realize that pain is weakening, and exhausts your vitality? Don't you remember how completely worn out you felt after that last attack of headache, neuralgia, backache, periodical or other spell of suffering? Nearly every case of inflammation, apoplexy, paralysis, epilepsy and insanity is directly due to the weakening influence of pain upon the brain nerves? For this reason every one who suffers from pain of any kind should not fail to get relief as quickly as possible.

You can do this by taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills—others do.

"I have used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for years, and can say they have never failed. I always keep them in the house. In fact I had rather be without sugar than the Pills. Previous to using them I had always suffered with sick headache, sometimes being bed for three and four days. I had tried nearly everything I ever heard of, but after a short time the effect would wear off. It is five years now since I began taking Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills, and the results are as good as at first."

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to blind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest families does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since it is generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

In all the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, indurcation and debility, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put forward through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed in plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine can know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

"Have ye a wife?"

"I have not."

"Any one dependin' on ye?"

"No one."

Kelly relaxed, and his eyes began to gleam friendly. "Very well, then, I consent to rob ye. I'm the owner of one mine into which I've put me last dollar, but I know a dandy proposition which I'd like to display. I'll take ye with me over the hills when ye're a little better acquainted with me, and when ye've seen the mine we'll talk the terms of partnership. The lunkers all know me, and the furo dealers likewise, the more shame to me." A smile of singular charm curved his handsome lips. "But never mind that. Matt Kelly never took advantage of any man, and that, I think, ye'll find me neighbors agreed upon. I'll not say I like the looks of ye—that would sound like banter—the truth bein' I'm seekin' a partner, but in a day or two I'll lay me scheme before ye."

Health

Means the ability to do a good day's work, without undue fatigue and to find life worth living. You cannot have indigestion or constipation without its upsetting the liver and polluting the blood. Such a condition may be best and quickest relieved by Herbine, the best liver regulator that the world has ever known. Mrs. D. W. Smith writes, April 3, '02: "I use Herbine and find it the best medicine for constipation and regulating the liver I ever used." See at Alvey & List and G. C. C. Kolb.

FORTY DAYS' SESSION ENDS.

Everything Harmonious Between I. C. and Its Firemen.

Col. John Trantham, local delegate to the executive committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen of the I. C., returned from Chicago this morning after a forty days' session of the committee and reported a very pleasant meeting the entire forty days.

The committee was in its regular annual session adjusting all differences. The reinstatement of suspended firemen and such grievances were taken up and other matters pertaining to rules, etc., discussed. The committee met the high officials, and reported a thoroughly harmonious conference.

Col. Trantham stated that he had nothing of interest locally to give out, as all the matters he took up as a delegate were not finally acted on and will not be for some little time.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN BY COMMERCIAL CLUB

Very Few Changes Will Take Place This Year.

Mr. Joseph L. Friedman to Be New President—Secretary Coons to Be Re-elected.

HIGHLY COMMENDED BY CLUB.

The members of the Commercial club held their annual meeting for the election of directors, at the club headquarters last night and the following directors were elected:

Earl Palmer, Sol Dreyfuss, H. C. Rhodes, B. H. Scott, Harry Meyer, W. P. Hummel, Ben Weille, George C. Wallace, Harry Hank, W. L. Bowlers, Joseph L. Friedman and A. J. Decker.

A meeting of the new directory will be held tomorrow night, and as Mr. Decker has expressed the wish to retire from the presidency, Mr. Joseph L. Friedman will, in all probability, be elected to the position.

The meeting last night was very well attended, and was very interesting. The by-laws were amended to give the directors the option of increasing the number of directors, at any time, to 20, and the time for the annual election was fixed for April 1st of each year.

At the meeting of the directors tomorrow night, Mr. Coons will be re-elected to the secretaryship. He has made the club a most excellent officer, and as one of the directors remarked last night his work has been of a nature that only those in a position to know can appreciate at its fullest. The directors took advantage of the opportunity last night to pay him and his work some very handsome compliments.

Mr. Coons is a native Kentuckian and is proud of it. He came to Paducah about a year ago and was elected to the secretaryship of the Commercial club soon after he came here. Unknown to the city or its people, he entered into his work with enthusiasm, tact, and energy and it is an easily verified fact that Paducah and its Commercial club have received wider publicity during his term of office than it ever did before. Mr. Coons has brought the town to the attention of over 1500 persons looking for locations, and that they have not been located here is the fault of the city, and not his. He has also drawn attention to himself, as this week he has received three offers to go to other cities to engage in similar work. One offer is from Joplin, Mo., where he is offered $3,600 a year, and one is from a railroad at Indianapolis and the other from Jackson, Tenn.

The local club has made an earnest request that he remain with it, however, and he has promised to do so.

CAR AGENT

FINDS PADUCAH IS WELL SUPPLIED WITH CARS.

Mr. J. C. Maus, traveling agent for the I. C. road, headquarters at Chicago, was in Paducah yesterday on business, going east to Louisville from here last night.

Mr. Maus came to Paducah on a regular inspection trip to look into the condition of the cars on the division. He also looked over the records of the shops in the car repairing department. He found the division well stocked with cars and few bad order cars on hand.

Mr. Maus stated that the Palmer last night that repair work in the Paducah shops was superior in many ways to that put out by other shops; that the men here seemed to take an exceptional pride in the class of work done and the result is the best class of work possible to get. The shops have turned out a great deal of work this winter and Mr. Maus was pleased in every way with the existing conditions.

The Louisville division has suffered a great deal from the shortage of freight cars during the winter, but the conversion of ballast cars into coal cars for emergencies has saved any inconvenience from this source this winter. There were over 400 ballast cars converted into coal cars.

VETERANS MEET

To Arrange for the Tyler Lecture.

Camp James T. Walbert, Confederate Veterans, held a meeting last night to arrange for the lecture to be given next Monday evening at The Kentucky theater by Judge Henry Tyler, of Hickman, Ky., on Gen. Nathan Bedford Forrest.

Hon. Given Campbell will introduce the distinguished speaker, and the veterans will assemble in the theater and march inside in a body to the strains of some appropriate air played by the orchestra. Fifty cents will be the general admission, but 75 will be the price of reserved seats. All veterans who are not able to pay the admission will be cheerfully admitted free.

Postal cards will be sent to veterans all over the First district, and today tickets went on sale at Walker's drug store.

The proceeds of the lecture go towards the Confederate monument to be erected in Lang park.

Croup

Begins with the symptoms of a common cold; there is chilliness, sneezing, sore throat, hot skin, quick pulse, hoarseness and impeded respiration. Give frequent small doses of Ballard's Horehound Syrup (the child will cry for it) and at the first sign of a croupy cough apply frequently Ballard's Snow Liniment to the throat.

Mrs. A. Vilet, New Castle, Co., writes, March 19, 1902: "I think Ballard's Horehound Syrup a wonderful remedy, and so pleasant to take." For sale by Alvey & List and G. C. C. Kolb.

FIFTEEN BLOCKS YET TO BE BUILT

This Will Be Shown in City Engineer's Report.

The Board of Works May This Afternoon Receive Several Important Estimates.

EXPECT BOND MONEY REPORT.

City Engineer L. A. Washington, who will leave Friday at noon for Virginia to visit his parents, will have his work well up in order that no delay or inconvenience be occasioned because of his departure.

Engineer Washington will this afternoon late have the figures for the remaining work on the streets to be improved, prepared for submission to the board of works. The municipal board asked that he prepare a statement showing exactly how much more work there is to do. The remaining work amounts to about 15 blocks.

From Fifth to Ninth on Jefferson, and from Fourth to Ninth on Kentucky avenue, side streets from Broadway to Jefferson and to Kentucky avenue on Sixth, Seventh and Ninth streets.

The contractors will resume work

as soon as the weather opens up.

The city auditor was asked for a statement of the exact amount of the bond money left and will have this ready by the time the board is in session.

City Engineer Washington will also have the new map of Oak Grove finished by tomorrow and will have his map of Kentucky avenue and Jefferson streets finished so that his work of making estimates will not be delayed.

A sewer being installed at Fifth and Clay will also be finished tomorrow and Engineer Washington will have his work well up before leaving.

Itch—Rugworm.

E. T. Lucas, Wingo, Ky., writes April 25, 1902: "For 10 to 12 years I had been afflicted with a malady known as the 'itch.' The itching was most unbearable; I had tried for years to find relief, having tried all remedies I could hear of, besides a number of doctors. I wish to state that one single application of Ballard's Snow Liniment cured me completely and permanently. Since then I have used the liniment on two separate occasions for ring worm and it cured completely. 25c, 50c and $1 at Alvey & Lat's and G. C. C. Kolb's."

BAPTIST PASTOR AGAIN QUITE ILL

Rev. J. S. Cheek Returns to Hot Springs to Recuperate.

Had Been Back For Only a Few Days When He Again Broke Down Condition Not Serious.

REVIVAL NOT TO CLOSE YET.

Rev. J. S. Cheek, pastor of the First Baptist church, left again for Hot Springs, Ark., last night, accompanied by his wife, to recuperate from the effect of his arduous work in connection with the First Baptist revival.

Dr. Cheek returned only last Saturday from a ten-days' stay at Hot Springs, and again entered into the work with his characteristic vigor, with the result that he was soon in a weakened state, and some of his friends are alarmed over his condition.

It is said not to be serious, however, and when he returns from Hot Springs he expects to again be strong and able to take up his work with better results. He was able to baptize several converts last night, despite his condition.

It was intended to close the revival, which has lasted about three months now with this evening's service, but Rev. Cheek announced last night that he did not know when the meeting would close, which means that it will continue indefinitely. Close to 700 new members have been added to the First Baptist church since the meeting began, and it is not known how many have joined other churches.

RIVER NEWS

RIVER STAGES.

Calro, 17.6—0.1 fall.

Nashville, 9.4—0.1 fall.
Pittsburg, 1.5, stand.
Davis Island Dam, 4.0—0.1 rise, now falling.
St. Louis, 8.3—0.1 rise.
Mt. Vernon, 9.0—0.8 fall.
Paducah, 10.7—0.6 fall.

The river fell 0.6 last night, the gauge registering 10.7 feet this morning.

The Dick Fowler had a big trip down again today, and got away on time this morning.

The Chattanooga left at 9 o'clock today for Chattanooga. She had a good trip.

The Clyde leaves tonight for the Tennessee river.

The Joe Fowler was the Evansville packet today.

Capt. Frank Wagner has gone to Hickman to look after his boat, the Charleston, which has been aground near there for several days. It is reported that she is high and dry, but in no great danger.

Capt. J. Cade Stewart for many years pilot and captain on the St. Louis and Tennessee river packet company's boats, has decided to forsake the river and has bought an interest in a livery and sale stable at Charleston, Mo., the other interest being owned by a brother-in-law. He is preparing to remove to Charleston.

Keene Blakemore, who died last week while acting as clerk on the Falls City in the Louisville and Kentucky river trade will be remembered here by many river men. He was second clerk on the Joe Fowler last season.

Capt. Harry Crane, master of the steamer City of Saltillo, and his wife have returned to St. Louis from Decatur, Ga. where they spent part of the winter.

Capt. George Doubleday, general manager of the Ryman line of steamers, is in St. Louis to arrange for running the steamer J. B. Richardson in the St. Louis and Calhoun county trade.

Capt. William McClellan, of Shreveport, La., writes that his company has awarded a contract for building a large railroad transfer boat for the Red river to the Howard ship yards of Jeffersonville, Ind. The boat will be named the William-McClellan.

The Lee Line steamers are keeping up their Ohio river business, and this is the first winter in many years that the boats have been able to navigate the Ohio river in the midwinter season.

The Memphis News-Scholar says: "News brought to Memphis by the captain of boats who have passed the Rees Lee, which was sunk off Tiptonville two weeks ago, is to the effect that she is still lying in the same position she took when she went down, and has not been affected by the rise of the river. To the contrary, it is thought that she has benefited by it, as the mud which was swept down by the rise doubtless has accumulated on her lower deck and helped to keep her steady. Her bow is against the current, and she is slowly emerging as the river falls. It is thought at the Lee Line offices that she can be raised as soon as the river falls and that she has not been damaged as badly as was feared at first."

A Washington dispatch says: "President Roosevelt today told Representative Richardson of Alabama, that he would sign the bill authorizing the construction of a dam and water power plant at Mussel Shoals, on the Tennessee river. A hard fight was made against the measure, but the president finally was convinced that it is meritorious."

MCALL DYING.

Former Life Insurance President Suffering the End.

New York, Feb. 11.—The last rites of the Roman Catholic church were administered yesterday to John A. McCall, former president of the New York Life Insurance company, at Lakewood, N. J., where he has been seriously ill for some time. Father Heally, of the Church of Our Lady of the Lake, which the McCall family has attended whenever at Lakewood, officiated.

and the doctors had been hastily called. His condition was such that his family was advised to be prepared for the worst. Mr. McCall rallied somewhat, but his condition remains critical.

Besides Mrs. McCall there are now in constant attendance three physicians and three trained nurses. Dr. E. G. Janeway and Dr. John Vandorpool, of New York, have been called in consultation.
